THE KTVO BULLDOG REPORT can be seen every Sunday evening on KTVO Channel 3 in Kirksville following the 10 p.m. news. Tim Peters will talk with Truman head coach John Ware about the previous day's game and look ahead to next week.

TRUMAN (6-5 OVERALL, 5-4 IN THE MIAA IN 2000): The Truman Bulldogs open the season in a little over one week when they play host to the Drake University Bulldogs for the first time in both teams' season-opener. However, it is not the first meeting of the two teams as Drake twice handed Truman losses in Des Moines, Iowa.

It will be the first meeting of the teams since Oct. 6, 1984, when Truman lost 31-17 in Des Moines. Drake also slighted Truman 41-6 on Oct. 6, 1979, in Des Moines. However, the DU Bulldogs were an NCAA Division I team during the first two encounters and have since moved to NCAA 1-AA Non-Scholarship status.

Drake travels to Kirksville today for the first in a two-game series between the teams. Truman will go to Des Moines, Iowa, in 2002 to start the season at Drake.

TRUMAN IN SEASON OPENERS: Truman won its first non-conference game since '94 in last year's season opener against Northern Michigan 35-24 in Kirksville. The Truman Bulldogs are 57-32-4 in season-openers over 93 seasons of football, dating back to 1900.

EXPECTATIONS ARE HIGH FOR THE 2001 TRUMAN FOOTBALL team as it returns a large contingent of offensive starters, including one of the Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association premier quarterbacks and a trio of outstanding receivers.

After producing an average of 4,364.5 yards of total offense, 3,117.5 through the airways, over the last two seasons, the Bulldogs are ready to see the fruits of labors realized.

Senior quarterback Eric Howe (West Des Moines, Iowa/Dowling) could become Truman's all-time passing leader today, after producing the second- and third-best seasons in MIAA history as a sophomore and junior, respectively. With 271 yards passing, slightly more than his 267.7 per game average of a year ago, Howe will break the Bulldogs record for career passing yards set by Jeff Frost at 6,529 yards from 1987-90, and Howe is just two touchdowns away from the Truman career mark of 50 set by Frost as well. By season's end, Howe could end up second on the MIAA list of all-time passing leaders.

However, all those passes and yards have also been adding up for junior wide receiver Andrew Blakley (St. Joseph, Mo./Central) who is already third among career reception leaders at Truman with 127, and ranks 11th in career receiving yards (1,519) after just two seasons.

Howe and Blakley both earned honorable mention all-MIAA status last year, along with junior wide receiver Alfonso Pugh (Galesburg, Ill.) who tied the league record for touchdowns on kickoff returns with two during the 2000 campaign. Pugh also had a touchdown on a punt return and tied for the team-lead in scoring with 54 points. He led the squad with 10.4 all-purpose yards per game, earning a reputation as a dangerous return man after finishing second in the MIAA and ninth in the nation in punt (16.4) and kick return averages (28.9).

Two losses the Bulldogs will need to overcome on offense are those of first-team all-MIAA left tackle Josh Raaz and the team's second-leading receiver, Kevin Collins, a second-team all-league performer last year. But for looking returning second-team all-MIAA center Nick Ruud (Moline, Ill.), along with airman Geoff Jensen (Grinnell, Iowa) to pick up the slack in their junior campaigns. Jensen served as the ‘Dogs deep threat during the 2000 campaign. Pugh also had a touchdown on a punt return and tied for the team-lead in scoring with 54 points. He led the squad with 10.4 all-purpose yards per game, earning a reputation as a dangerous return man after finishing second in the MIAA and ninth in the nation in punt (16.4) and kick return averages (28.9).

But all aspects of our offense, receivers, tight ends, offensive lineman and running backs, need to step up to help us continue the trend of increased balance and rushing efficiency,” Ware continued.

On defense, junior inside linebacker Jake Willrich (Grimes, Iowa/Dallas Center-Grimes) is the top returner. He led the team with 97 total tackles a year ago, en route to honorable mention all-MIAA status.

Junior honorable mention all-league honoree Judd Lienhard (Louisiana, Mo.) also returns to the linebacking corps and rounds out the returning all-conference performers for the Bulldogs on defense. Two other starters join him though, and a fifth man who was second on the team in tackles last year as a non-starter.

Replacements will be needed for all four defensive linemen, but three upperclassmen look ready to pick up where their predecessors left off, along with a large class of freshmen who will be looking to make strides in the early going.

The secondary will see the return of just one starter, along with several key players who contributed nearly as much last year as the men ahead of them on the depth chart.

“Defensively, I think we can feel more comfortable in our structure and new schemes,” Ware said. “Expect more multiplicity and variation, which will help us to make the big play.

“I’m excited about our depth and athletic ability at the defensive line, although we may lack experience,” Ware went on to say. “Hopefully our experienced linebacker crew can come into their own, as we also have good athleticism there.

“Our inside linebackers probably run as well as any I can remember. DB-wise, I see improvement and stability, if we can remain healthy. They will also feel more comfortable with some of our new nuances.”

AFTER DRAKE THE GAME, Truman will wrap-up non-conference action with a short trip over to Quincy, Ill., as the series between the Hawks and the ‘Dogs resumes after a 50-year hiatus. QU won the only meeting between the teams 43-12 on Nov. 9, 1951.

The conference slate opens at home with Emporia State for the Hall of Fame game on Sept. 15, followed by a home game with Missouri-Rolla for Family Day. Emporia snatched away a four-game winning streak for the Bulldogs with a 55-20 thrashing last year, while UMR will be looking to snap the ‘Dogs’ 17-game winning streak in that series.

With three out of Truman’s five home contests all in September, the Bulldogs will close out the month with a jaunt to Southwest Baptist where the series stands at 10-2 in favor of the ‘Dogs.

Truman remains on the road for a game at Washburn the next week. A close battle last year between the teams saw the Bulldogs emerge the victors, 45-42.

Then its homecoming for the ‘Dogs who, due to the MIAA schedule rotation, will again face Missouri Southern after beating them 30-28 in the traditional game last year.

A tough road stint will then challenge the Bulldogs’ postseason aspirations as Northwest Missouri and Pittsburg State are on the agenda back-to-back. Truman has not beaten either team since 1995.

Central Missouri will finish the ‘Dogs’ home schedule on Nov. 3, followed by the season finale at Missouri Western. Truman has taken six of the last seven meetings against CMSU and has lost two straight to MWSC, including a 20-19 edge in St. Joseph in 2000.

QUARTERBACKS

Howe will remain the Truman’s No. 1 signal-caller, but look for senior Ryan Sullivan (Burnsville, Minn./Lakeville) to take the field in relief. Sullivan suffered a season-ending injury in preseason camp last year, but is back for his final season. Sophomore Jake Czeschin (Fulton, Mo.) could also see time after serving as the No. 2 man as a true freshman last year.

RECEIVERS

With Blakley, Pugh and Jensen resuming key roles as targets for Howe, on-lookers may not notice the likes of sophomore Colin Shaw (Naperville, Ill./North), along with a host of last year’s redshirts. Shaw played in 10 games as a true freshman a year ago.

Freshman Victor Isidro (DeSoto, Mo.) is the redshirt at split end and will back up Pugh and Shaw there, while Mike Pope (West Burlington, Iowa) and Adam Dearing (Palmyra, Mo.) will fill in behind Blakley at the slot. Redshirt freshmen J.D. McCluskey (Omaha, Neb./Creighton Prep) and Rob Rohrbach (Wheaton, Ill.) will back up Jensen at flanker.

RUNNING BACKS

Junior Mike Redding (Lake Zurich, Ill.) and sophomore Wyatt Pickering (Chillicothe, Mo.) have battled for the starting assignment at tailback. Though Redding had a lock on the job last year, Pickering ran a close second and will again challenge for the job. The tailbacks will be an experienced position too with sophomores Brian Cosman (Glenview, Ill./Glenbrook South) and Marc Heinecke (Colorado Springs, Colo./Air Force Prep) in the mix as well.

If Pickering makes the cut at tailback, fans could see Redding at fullback, along with junior Carl Swenson (Marshalltown, Iowa) and Heinecke. Swenson was out part of last season with an injury, but was the starting fullback for all of 1999.

OFFENSIVE LINEMEN

However, Burns could be sidelined the first game with an injury.

Junior Tommy Haddox (Washington, Mo.) looks to have the nod from Coach Ware at left guard, but will be pushed by senior transfer Mike Harris (Chandler, Ariz./Dobson). Redshirt freshman Dan Lawellin (Joplin, Mo.) will backup Haddox and Harris.

Sophomores Craig Knoth (cape Girardeau, Mo./Central) and Greg Klipsch (St. Louis/Lindbergh) will attempt to steal the full-time job at right guard from Sattler after making strides in the spring while Sattler was doing an internship. Sattler could also fill at tackle if needed due to injuries. Redshirt freshman Jason Belsher (Elliisville, Mo./RAF Lakenheath, U.K.) is also in the mix at right guard.

At left tackle, Montgomery will get help from sophomores Eric Donohoe (Clive, Iowa/Dawling) and Eric Stewart (Moline, Ill.) and redshirt freshman Rusty Wood (Jefferson City, Mo.), Senior Damon Motley (Independence, Mo./Pt. Osage) is back as the reliever for Burns at right tackle after seeing time in all 11 games last year.

Ruud will be a hard roadblock to pass at center for Donohoe and Tom Osborn (Springfield, Ill./Sacred Heart-Griffin). However, if Ruud does need to come out, the two can provide help. Osborn saw action in nine games last year, while Donohoe played in two. Redshirt freshman Joel Van Maaren (Kellogg, Iowa/Newton) is also an option.

TIGHT ENDS

Three seniors line up at tight end with Jason Riney (Byron, Ill.) slated as the returning starter. He moved in as the No. 2 tight end, Eric Ess (Edwardsville, Ill.), should again see ample time on the field in his last season. Ess also could be out the first game due to an injury, but look for the third senior, Brian Archibald (St. Louis/Lindbergh), who saw limited action in six games last year, along with redshirt freshmen A.J., Weber (St. Charles, Mo./Duchesne) and Mark Boston (Roodhouse, Ill./Greenfield), to provide good depth at the position.

DEFENSIVE LINE

Junior Nick Weite (Ottumwa, Iowa) came out of spring ball as the starter at left tackle. He moved to the defensive line in the spring after serving behind Willrich at middle linebacker and out-growing the position.

Bredenkoeuter played in six games a year ago. Sophomore Bryan Jovick (St. Louis/CBC), who has been a heavyweight on the Truman wrestling team the last two seasons, could also provide help.

Seniors Jim Marischen (St. Louis/Chaminade) and Sterling Brown (Kansas City, Mo./Rockhurst) look to have the nod at the left and right ends, respectively. Both have bided their time, playing extensive roles as relievers and are ready to assume the responsibility of being a full-time starter.

On the left end, redshirt freshmen Drew Ramaker (Keokuk, Iowa) and Nick West (Evanston, Ill./Whitney Young), along with wayward son Micah Johnson (Chicago/Whitney Young), will backup Marischen. Johnson was a defensive lineman for the Dogs in 1996, but left for the University of Alabama before entering the Army.

LINEBACKERS

The most experienced part of the defense will be the linebackers, headed by Willrich on the strong side and Lienhard in the middle, and continuing with returning starters Bryan Johnson (Byron, Ill.) on the weak side and safety Adam Meyer (New Haven, Mo./Washington), a junior.

Senior Anthony Donnelly (Fayette, Mo.), and redshirt freshmen Andrew Cowherd (Boonville, Mo.) and Scott Smith (Posen, Ill./Bremen) will aid Johnson on the weak side. In the middle, sophomore Tameem Yehawy (Keokuk, Iowa) will spell Lienhard after serving as a backup in 10 games last season.

Should Willrich need a rest on the strong side, redshirt freshmen Mike Mowen (Rockton, Ill./Honenegah), who was voted the team’s defensive scout team player of the year for 2000, and Dominick Scalise (Owensville, Mo.) will be the men.

Sophomore Derek Kent (Lucas, Iowa/Chariton) may have established himself as the No. 1 strong safety after spending the 2000 season as Meyer’s backup. Kent posted an outstanding inaugural season, finishing second on the team in total tackles (71) and tackles for losses (nine for 32). Look for sophomore Billy Bundy (Vancouver, Wa./Battle Ground), who saw action in all 11 games last year in relief, to add good depth.

DEFENSIVE BACKS

Though junior Philip Lay (Rock Hill, Mo./Webster Groves) is the only starter back in the secondary, plenty of experience is evident as juniors Justin Walter (Chillicothe, Mo.) and Lance Dorsey (Hannibal, Mo.) assume the roles of cornerback and free safety, respectively.

Dorsey made two starts last year, due to injuries to all-MIAA defensive back John Naeve, and charted three pass-breakups. Meyer could also play here if Kent takes over at strong safety. Senior Taylon Fain (St. Louis/SLUH) has been a valuable reserve defensive back, as well as special teams players, and will also play a lot.

Redshirt freshmen Austin Hills (GreenTop, Mo./Kirksville) and Ben Wilson (San Diego, Calif./Scripps Ranch) provide added depth at safety.

Sophomore Shaun Lowery (Dolton, Ill./Thornridge) will push Lay for one of the starting assignments at corner back after playing in eight games in 2000.

On the other corner will be Walter who showed promise early last season and had an excellent spring after sustaining a season-ending injury in game four of the 2000 campaign. Sophomore Anthony Binion (Chicago/Fenwick) tied for the team lead with two interceptions a year ago and will help Walter.

Senior Dominick Wright (Olathe, Kan./North), along with sophomore Matt Marble (Blue Springs, Mo.) played in eight games a year ago, and redshirt freshman David Winslow (Bridge ton, Mo./Pattonville) will provide ample depth at corner back.

KICKER

Junior Austin Lepper (Ames, Iowa/Gilbert) returns to his roles as both place kicker and punter. He finished the 2000 season ranked 28th in NCAA Division II with an average of 38.9 yards per punt.

DRAKE UNIVERSITY (7-4 OVERALL, 3-1 IN PFL IN 2000):

Nine consecutive seasons of seven-plus victories has established the Drake football program as one of the nation’s elite at the NCAA I-AA non-scholarship ranks. With 33 returning lettermen, including 14 starters from last year’s squad that tied for the Pioneer Football League title, the Bulldogs will feature a lineup with experience and depth, including the nation’s premier kicker in the NCAA I-AA ranks, along with the league’s most potent offense and an opportunistic defense.

Senior Billy Cundiff ranked second nationally in field goals with a PFL record 20, while Ally in field goals with a PFL record 20, while Drake as the clear choice at quarterback. He started at quarterback the last six games of 1999 when regular Solon Bell was injured. Vander later shared the quarterback duties with Bell last year. Despite starting only five games, Vander reached eighth in the nation in passing efficiency with 148.56 points. Phil Joseph enters his senior campaign at running back hoping to regain his form of 1999 when he led the team with 642 yards rushing for a 5.3 average, including a team-high eight touchdowns. Last year, Joseph shared time with freshman Jonathan Taylor.

Junior Aaron Overton needs seven receptions to become the school’s career non-scholarship leader at 96. The split end is one of the top big play threats in the PFL and led the
