TRUMAN (4-12, 1-6 MIAA): The Bulldogs continue to put a scare into the top teams in the MIAA, but they haven’t been able to pull out a much needed victory.

The latest setback came on Wednesday against the No. 2 team in the country. Truman grabbed its first lead of the game with 2:34 remaining, but Northwest Missouri’s Kelvin Parker took the game over at that point, helping the Bearcats prevail by a 68-63 score.

The Bulldogs will be in action this Saturday when they travel to Warrensburg to take on Central Missouri. Truman is looking to snap a six-game losing streak and a 22-game road conference skid.

SCOUTING CENTRAL MISSOURI (12-4, 4-3 MIAA): The Mules, which went 8-1 in non-conference action, are currently tied for fourth in the conference standings with a 4-3 mark. Central Missouri snapped a two-game losing streak last Wednesday with a 93-86 victory at Missouri-Rolla.

Statistically, the Mules are one of the top teams in the conference. They are third in both scoring defense and scoring offense and second in scoring margin. The team ranks near the top in all of the shooting categories, is second in the MIAA in rebounding margin and is the league’s top school in blocks. The Mules are averaging 7.7 three-pointers a game and five different players are averaging over one three-pointer a contest.

Central Missouri’s top scorer is Pat Schumacher who is averaging 13.2 points a game. He is second in the MIAA with a .609 field goal percentage and 2.69 blocks and he is seventh with a 7.1 rebounding average. Brian Rhodes averages 10.8 points a game and has a team-high 8.1 rebounding average and 26 steals on the year.

Derek Weber leads the team with 27 three-pointers on the year and puts up 12.5 points a game. Jeremy McFall leads the conference with 5.38 assists and a .922 free throw percentage.

Head coach of the Mules is Kim Anderson. Last season was his first as a collegiate head coach and he led Central Missouri to a 13-15 mark.
Central Missouri owns a 106-65 all-time series advantage over the Bulldogs and a 54-18 lead in games played in Warrensburg.

Last season, the Mules won a pair of close games, winning 66-63 on their home court and 73-71 in Kirksville. The last Truman win in the series was a 58-54 victory at home in 2002. Its last win in Warrensburg was a 68-63 victory back in 1999.

MOST RECENT GAMES - NORTHWEST MISSOURI-68, TRUMAN-63

The Bulldogs overcame a 19-point deficit to grab the lead, but once again suffered a close loss. Truman fell on Wednesday night to the second-ranked team in the country by a 68-63 score.

The Bears' Kelvin Parker scored 17 of his game-high 21 points in the second-half, including eight after Truman had taken its only lead of the game at 58-57 with 2:34 left. His biggest basket came with 43 seconds left when he broke a 61-61 tie with a three-point play after being fouled while converting a layup.

Truman turned the ball over its next possession, leading to two made free throws by the Bears' Sky Wilson. The Bulldogs quickly drove down and made a layup to make the score 66-63, and Parker was fouled with four seconds left. Truman had a slimmer of hope when Parker missed the first shot, but he drained the second free throw to seal the Bears' victory.

The Bulldogs came out cold from the field in the first-half and quickly fell behind 31-12. They used a 12-2 run to get back into things and were only down 35-24 at the break.

In the second-half, Truman was on fire from the field, shooting 69.6% from the field and hitting six-of-10 from the three-point line. The Bears had their largest lead of the half at 46-35, but Truman went on a 13-3 run to tie the ballgame. However, Northwest Missouri was able to hang on down the stretch, handing the Bulldogs another heartbreaking loss.

Truman outshot and outrebounded the Bears for the game. However, the Bulldogs turned the ball over four more times, which led to Northwest Missouri scoring 17 points off turnovers, compared to just four for the Bulldogs. The Bears also went to line 16 more times and made 12 more charity shots than Truman.

Matt Brock continued his hot-shooting of late for Truman. He led the team with a career-high 18 points, including five three-pointers. Grant Agbo kept his double-figure scoring streak alive with 12 points. Andy Calmes paced the squad with six boards.

Wilson and Byron Jackson joined Parker in double-figure scoring as both had 12 points. Austin Meyer led Northwest Missouri with four rebounds and tied with Parker for the team-high with three assists.

Central Missouri-93, Missouri-Rolla-86

(Jan. 21, Rolla, Mo.)

Central Missouri put five players in double figures as it held off a furious rally by Missouri-Rolla in the final minutes to claim a 93-86 win Wednesday at the Bullman Multi-Purpose Building.

The Mules, who shot 51.9 percent for the game, got 19 points from Brian Rhodes and 18 points from Pat Schumacher, who also finished with 11 rebounds and three blocked shots. Central also got 16 from Jeremy McFall and Reggie Soward — with Soward doing his damage early and McFall completing the job in the latter stages.

Soward scored 14 of his 16 points in the first half to help Central build a lead as large as 16 points. The Mules led, 41-32, at the intermission, then built it back to a 17-point margin at 69-52 with 11:10 to go.

Central Missouri still led 78-63 with 5:31 to play, but the Miners went on a 19-9 run and closed the gap to five on Ike Muonelo's three-pointer with 57 seconds to go. Missouri-Rolla's Mark Grim then got a steal on Central's next possession and was fouled, but missed both free throws with a chance to trim the lead to three. McFall then finished off the Miners by hitting 6-of-6 at the line in the final 19 seconds.

Jermaine Burks led the Miners with 21 points, while Muonelo was an assist shy of a triple-double as he had 15 points and a career-high 11 rebounds to go with his nine assists.

1,000 WINS: The Truman men’s basketball program won the 1,000th game in program history earlier this season against Harris-Stowe. This year is the 84th season of Bulldog basketball and the program has an all-time record of 1,001-889 (.530).

BULLDOG COACHING STAFF: Jack Schrader is starting his ninth season as head coach of the Truman men’s basketball team. Prior to being named the head coach, he served as an assistant coach at Truman for four years under Willard Sims.

In eight years under Schrader, the Bulldogs have made five appearances in the MIAA post-season tournament. He has a 94-142 (.398) career record at Truman and, in 1998-99, led the team to one of its best seasons that concluded with an appearance in the 1998-99 NCAA championship semifinals. Truman claimed the MIAA post-season tournament championship that year and Schrader was named the conference’s co-coach of the year and the NABC regional coach of the year.

Prior to coaching the Bulldogs, Schrader coached professional and high school teams all over the world. He was a member of the Arizona State Sun Devils for three years and was drafted by the Phoenix Suns in 1975 and played professionally in Europe.

Aspiring Schrader for the fourth consecutive year is Tim Deidrick. Deidrick started his coaching career under former Bulldog head coach Willard Sims in 1992 as a student and graduate assistant. He also coached at Scottsdale Community College (Ark.) and St. Louis Community College before returning to Truman in 2000.

The Bulldogs used a strong inside game and hit their free throws down the stretch for their first win of the year, a 71-65 victory over Lincoln.

Truman scored 60 of its 71 points from either in the paint or the free throw line. The Bulldogs held Lincoln to just 38.7% shooting from the field and outrebounded the Blue Tigers by a 43-38 margin, helping them to the win despite another poor shooting night from the outside.

Lincoln came back, hitting five three-pointers in the final eight minutes and taking advantage of some missed Truman free throws to get within two at 62-60 with 1:36 left in the game. The Bulldogs finally got on track at the line, however, hitting nine-of-10 charity shots from that point on to close the game out.

Four Truman players scored in double-figures, led by Matt Beran with 18 points. Grant Agbo and Chip Sodemann each had 14 and Ryan Welker scored 10. Welker and Beran each grabbed nine rebounds.
