The Truman women’s swimming team made it three-in-a-row when it won the 2003 NCAA Division II Swimming and Diving Championships. The Bulldogs scored 682 points to finish 272 points ahead of second-place Drury, the largest margin of victory in DII history.

First-year head coach Colleen Murphy was named NCAA Division II women’s coach of the year as the Bulldog women claimed five individual titles and four relay titles, breaking four DII records in the process.

The ‘Dogs performed an impressive feat by qualifying 18 members for the national championship team, the maximum allowed by the NCAA, all of whom finished in the top 16 in at least one event to earn all-American honors.

Seniors Kelli Dudley and Liz Hug led the way for the Bulldogs, each bringing home two individual titles.

Dudley won the 400-yard individual medley, swimming a 4:20.67 in prelims to set a new Division II record and better her school mark by over three seconds. She also took first-place in the 200 backstroke, swimming a 2:00.49 in the prelims, to again shave time off of her school record. In addition, Dudley was runner-up in the 200 individual medley and 100 backstroke.

Hug took home victories in the 1,000 freestyle and 200 individual medley. She also finished second in the 500 freestyle and fourth in the 200 freestyle.

Sophomore Diana Betsworth was the champion in the 500 freestyle after garnering three national titles in 2002. The defending national champion and NCAA record-holder in the 1,000 freestyle, Betsworth placed second to Hug this year, while junior Katie May was third.

Betsworth was also the runner-up in the 100 and 200 freestyles, breaking her own school record in the 100 freestyle with her time of 50.81.

Even more impressive were the Bulldog’s relays. The Truman women captured

A Winning Tradition

- The Truman women claimed the University’s first national team title in 2001.
- Before claiming their first title in 2001, the women consistently rose to the top, placing fourth in 1998, third in 1999 and second in 2000.
- Coach Murphy earned the CSCAA women’s coach of the year honor her first year as head coach in 2003. Former coach Seth Huston won the award for four straight years from 1999-2002.
- At the past three national championships, the women have earned 15 individual titles and 10 relay crowns.
- Last year, the women scored 682 points to finish 272 points ahead of second-place Drury, the largest margin of victory in Division II history.
- All 18 women on last year’s national team earned all-American honors by placing among the top-16 in at least one event.
- The Bulldog women currently hold four out of five national records in relay events.
- Diana Betsworth holds the national record in the 200 freestyle (1:48.75) and 1,000 freestyle (9:55.47), while Liz Hug holds the 200 IM (2:02.98) record and Kelli Dudley the 400 IM (4:20.67) mark.

four out of five relay titles, breaking the national records in three of those races.

The winning 400 freestyle relay team of Hug, senior Sara Hatcher, Betsworth and sophomore Sarah Dance knocked 1.38 seconds off of the former standard with their time of 3:22.82.

The ‘Dogs also shaved time off of their national records in the 200 and 400 medley relays to defend their crowns in those events. The 200 medley relay team of junior Krista Pray, sophomore Michaela Osborn, sophomore Christina Blose and Hatcher swam a 1:43.73 while the 400 medley relay team of Dudley, Osborn, Hug and Hatcher clocked a 3:47.73.

The 800 freestyle relay team of Hug, May, Dance and Betsworth claimed victory in the event, while the 200 freestyle relay team of Hatcher, freshman Whitney Jensen, Betsworth and Dance placed second with a school record time of 1:33.82.

Other top finishes included Hatcher’s second-place showing in the 50 freestyle and sixth-place finish in the 100 freestyle.

Osborn finished third in the 100 breaststroke and took seventh in the 200 breaststroke, bettering her own school record with a time of 2:22.79.

May finished third in the 1,000 and 1,650 freestyles, ninth in the 100 backstroke and 10th in the 200 backstroke.

Dance was third in the 100 and 200 freestyles, fourth in the 200 individual medley and eighth in the 100 butterfly with her teammates junior Alison Blyth and freshman Meredith Rocha taking ninth and 10th in the 200 fly.

Krista Pray finished sixth in the 100 backstroke. She was also 12th in the 200 back while her teammate freshman Kate Kresl was 14th in the same event.

In the distance races, freshman Katie Funk finished fifth in the 1,650 freestyle, while teammates sophomore Sarah Wells was 12th, senior Ellen Frick finished 14th and Blyth was 15th.

Funk was sixth in the 500 freestyle followed by freshman Aimee Gregor who took 14th. Funk finished ninth in the 1,000 freestyle with Blyth finishing 13th and Frick taking 16th in the same event.

In the 200 freestyle, sophomore Sue Ellen Thoma was 14th with Funk taking 15th. Backing up Dudley in the 400 individual medley was Wells who took 11th in that event.

Other notable performances for the women included Dudley’s lead-off leg in the 400 medley relay at the Central States Championships where she clocked a 56.62 to better her own school record. Also breaking a school record at the meet was Rocha who swam a 56.99 to win the 100 butterfly. Rocha also broke the Truman mark in the 200 butterfly at the Delta State Invitational, swimming a 2:05.12 to win the event.

In all, the 2002-03 season saw the Bulldog women break four NCAA Division II national records and 11 school records and claim nine national titles.

IN 2003, THE MEN’S TEAM achieved a 12th-place finish at the NCAA Division II championships as all six men earned all-American status.

The ‘Dogs were led by multiple-time all-American, senior Matt Pray. Pray finished out his career third in the 200 butterfly with a school record time of 1:47.99. He also placed fourth in the 100 butterfly, clocking a 48.58 in the prelims, good for another school record. In addition, Pray led off the 400 freestyle relay with a school record time of 45.90 seconds.

In 2001, Pray became the highest placing men’s swimmer ever at Truman when he finished second in the 100 butterfly, just behind Southern Connecticut State’s Ben Michaelson who narrowly missed the American record in the event at the 2003 championships.

The team of juniors Brian Teson and Andy Harken, Pray and freshman Josh Otis achieved the second-highest finish in school history by a Bulldog men’s relay team, placing fourth in the 400 medley. Their time of 3:23.55 cut nearly two seconds off the previous school record. The same swimmers teamed up in the 200 medley relay to take 10th-place.

The men’s 800 freestyle relay put up an impressive performance as well. The team of Teson, Otis, Pray and junior Robby Cooper placed sixth, breaking the school standard with their time of 6:52.54.

Harken, Pray, Otis and junior Vince Struble comprised the eighth-place 200 freestyle relay.

Otis had the highest individual finish behind Pray, finishing 10th in the 200 individual medley, narrowly missing the school record with his time of 1:53.81.

Cooper was 15th in the 1,650 freestyle at nationals after setting the school record at the Delta State Invitational with his time of 16:03.88.

Harken and Teson were 16th in the 100 breaststroke and 100 butterfly, respectively. The 2002-03 season saw six men’s school record’s fall, and the Bulldogs hope to do more damage this year with a strong senior class.

Colleen Murphy, a native of Grand Blanc, Mich., begins her second season as head swimming coach at Truman State University in 2003-04.

During her first year as head coach of the Bulldogs, she guided the women’s team to its third-straight first-place finish at the NCAA Division II championships, as the team claimed five individual NCAA titles and four relay crowns. It was the largest margin of victory in NCAA Division II history and was the first year that the maximum of 18 members qualified for the national team and earned all-American honors.

Murphy guided the women to four national records and 11 school records, producing nine national champions. Under Murphy, the men finished 12th in the nation with six swimmers becoming all-Americans.

In September of 2001, Murphy took the position of assistant coach for the University of Iowa women's swimming team, and then served a brief stint as an assistant at Penn State University for the men's and women's swimming teams.

While at Iowa, the women's swimming team improved to seventh in the Big 10 Conference and qualified two women automatically and three women provisionally for the NCAA Division I swimming championships. In addition, Murphy coached a swimmer to a ninth-place finish and honorable mention all-American status in the 200 breaststroke at the D-I championships. The Hawkeye women broke 10 school records during Murphy's year at Iowa, where she was in charge of the sprint and breaststroke training groups.
