The Truman women’s tennis team returns with a couple new faces on the team for the 2001-02 season. With a 4-0 2001 fall record, this team is looking for a first-place finish at the Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association Tournament after finishing second last year and third in 2000. Last year’s team was also chosen as an alternate for the NCAA tournament and posted an overall dual record of 12-8. This season’s team begins the spring ranked 11th in the NCAA Division II Midwest regional rankings.

Junior Allison Schuller will step up to fill the No. 1 position after posting a 15-15 record there last year in the No. 2 spot. In fall play, she compiled a 3-5 singles record. In the No. 2 spot, freshman Melissa Dudak will take over after compiling the most wins on the women’s team in the fall with a record of 8-2. Dudak will also play in the No. 1 doubles slot partnered with senior Jessica McKinney.

Junior Adri Atwell returns to the No. 3 singles spot after finishing third in the MIAA tournament. Atwell posted an 18-13 overall record last season and was 7-2 this fall.

Junior Meghan Konrad is back at the No. 4 singles slot with a fall record of 6-2. Last season, Konrad posted the best singles record on the squad at 26-8, placing third at the MIAA tournament. Atwell and Konrad also posted the best double record on the team a year ago at No. 3 doubles, going 24-3.

At the end of last year’s season McKinney was one of two conference champions for the ‘Dogs, winning the No. 5 singles flight. She also had the second-most wins on the team with a 24-5 singles mark and a 19-11 doubles record with partner Olesya Paramonova.

Junior Amanda Black takes the No. 6 spot in the lineup this year. She was 7-0 in the fall season.

Newcomers Alisha Dalsted, Jennifer Hopper, Kelcie McLaughlin and Abigail Souders will be working their way into the lineup this year and could see spot action as the season progresses.

Men’s Season Preview

The men’s team also returns with some new faces.

As the only senior on the team, Erich Podzinski will lead the squad at the No. 1 singles position. With a 13-5 record last year, he was the only conference champion for the team, winning No. 3 singles at the MIAA meet. Podzinski also made a return trip to the NCAA tournament.

Sophomore Ben Smith moves up to the No. 2 slot after finishing last spring with a record of 14-11 in the No. 6 position. He earned all-MIAA status with a second-place finish at the league tournament.

Juniors Adam Rees and Eric Babb will fill the No. 3 and No. 4 positions, respectively. This spring will be Babb’s first season in the top 6 lineup. He has not played due to an injury prior to his transfer to the team last spring.

Junior David Maginness will return for a third season and looks for a permanent spot in the lineup at the No. 5 or No. 6 spots, along with sophomore Chris Larson.

The men’s lineup also welcomes four new faces to the team, freshmen Steve Jones, Matt Lunneen, Jordan Mahaney and Nathan Salmons.

Erich Podzinski is the only senior on the men’s team this year.
Head Coach Pete Kendall

Pete Kendall is a native of Marion, Ind. in his tenth year as head tennis coach for Truman. He is also an instructor in the health and exercise science division. In 1995 and 1998, Kendall was named MIAA women’s coach of the year after the team took first-place in the Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association tournament.

Previously, he coached the tennis squads at Methodist College in Fayetteville, N.C., for four years. In addition to his coaching duties, Kendall served as an instructor, director of professional tennis management and a volunteer assistant football coach.

Under his direction, the women’s tennis team won the Dixie Conference title each year and was ranked nationally in NCAA Division III. The men captured the conference championship twice and were also ranked nationally.

Before Kendall’s arrival, MC had never notched a men’s or women’s league title. He was named the conference men’s coach of the year twice and the women’s coach of the year three times.

From 1982-88, Kendall was the tennis specialist at the Bahrain Sport Institute and coached the Bahrain National Junior Tennis Team which won six Persian Gulf championships. Since returning from Bahrain, Kendall has taken players and/or teams to the NCAA tournament each year.

Between 1970-82, Kendall served as tennis coach, assistant professor of physical education, intramural director, assistant football coach, admissions counselor and director at William Penn College (Iowa). He was also the tennis pro at the Elmhurst Country Club in Oskaloosa. Coach Kendall was inducted into the William Penn Athletic Hall of Fame in 1998.

Kendall was a teacher and coach at West Muskingum schools in Zanesville, Ohio, from 1967-70 and in Leipsic, Ohio, from 1966-67. He earned a bachelor of arts degree from William Penn and a Master of Arts degree from Ball State University (Ind.), both in physical education.

Kendall and his wife of 35 years, Lynn, reside in Kirksville. She is a teacher with the Parents as Teachers Program for the Kirksville Public Schools.
