On Aug. 23, 2006, Director of Athletics, Jerry Wollmering announced that Dan Davis had been hired as the new head baseball coach. Davis, who was previously an assistant coach at Northern Iowa, became the sixth Bulldog manager in the history of the program.

“I am thrilled to have someone of Dan’s caliber join our program,” said Wollmering. “He brings a broad array of coaching and playing experience that will help our program grow.”

“This is a very exciting time for my family,” said Davis. “The Truman baseball program and the Kirksville community are great places to come into. I can’t wait to meet the players and get started.”

Davis has been the pitching coach for the NCAA Division I Panthers for the last six years. When he arrived at Northern Iowa, the team had an ERA just under eight. Davis helped that number drop over the years, including an ERA of 4.63 last year, the lowest mark since the school moved to the Division I level. Also last season, the Panther pitchers struck out over 400 hitters for just the third time in school history.

Other highlights at Northern Iowa include helping the team win the 2001 Missouri Valley Conference tournament and advance to the NCAA tournament for the first time. That year, Davis coached Nic Unger, the MVC Pitcher of the Year and a second-team all-American. Davis also coached a freshman all-American pitcher in 2002 and seven pitchers who signed professional contracts.

Other duties for Davis at Northern Iowa included being the recruiting coordinator and academic supervisor for the program. He also was the director of camps, coordinator of team travel and assisted in fundraising and fiscal management.

Davis also has coaching experience from SIU-Carbondale, the El Dorado Broncos and Independence Community College.

He was an assistant coach for the Division I Salukies from 1997-2000. He was the pitching coach there, as well as helping with recruiting and having various other duties.

Davis was the head coach for El Dorado in the competitive Jayhawk summer league for the 1999 and 2000 seasons, and was the assistant coach there from 1997-1998. He helped the 1998 squad win the National Baseball Congress World Series.

His coaching career started at Independence Community College in 1997, where he was the pitching coach, recruiting coordinator and first base coach.

Davis pitched for SIU-Carbondale in 1994 and 1995. In his first year at the school, he broke a school record for innings pitched and led the team in strikeouts. The next year, he led the team in strikeouts and ERA, and tied for the team-high in wins. Davis was awarded the James J. Mundo Spirit award after his senior season. After his collegiate career, he played in the Frontier league for two seasons with the Kalamazoo Kodiaks and the Newark Bison.

Davis graduated from SIU-Carbondale in 1995 with a bachelor of science degree in exercise science. He received his master of science in higher education and administration from the same school in 2000.

Zaborowski joins the Truman baseball staff as a student assistant coach after spending two seasons with the Bulldogs as an infielder and pitcher. Zaborowski, from Winona, Minnesota, is majoring in business management/information systems. Before attending Truman State University and playing baseball for the Bulldogs, he was a student athlete at Des Moines Area Community College where he was named to the Second Team All-Region team.

In his 10 starts for Truman in 2006, Zaborowski logged a team-high 60.2 innings, striking out 37, and surrendering 4.30 runs per game. His two complete games were the only made by any Bulldog pitcher last season. Zaborowski also made an impact as a hitter with his glove. He was one of four Truman players to finish the season over .300, batting .310 and knocking in 16 runs. His 245 put-outs were three times as many as any other Bulldog player and was done with a .979 fielding percentage. For his efforts in 2006, Zaborowski was named First-Team All-MIAAA.

In 2005 Zaborowski posted similar numbers offensively and in eight appearances as a pitcher, did not surrender a single earned run.
