KRES 104.7 FM, the Superstation, is in its 12th season as the official ‘Voice of the Bulldogs’. KRES broadcasts the women’s basketball games, along with Truman football and men’s basketball contests.

Brad Boyer, Hank Janssen and Kevin White bring the thrill and excitement of Truman women’s basketball to fans throughout the listening area.

Boyer, KRES’s sports director, handles play-by-play, while commentary is provided by Janssen and White.

Boyer brings 18 years of basketball experience to the airwaves. Over the years, he has won 11 Missouri Broadcaster awards, including first-place for his play-by-play of the men’s basketball triple overtime game in the 1999 NCAA Quarterfinals.

Boyer has also served as the president of the Northeast Missouri Sports Writers and Broadcasters Association. He is a native of Memphis, Mo. and a graduate of Scotland County High School.

Janssen brings 28 years of Bulldog basketball broadcast experience to the headset.

White, Truman’s assistant AD for Communications and Operations, has been covering the women’s basketball program on the radio for the last 11 years.

Basketball broadcasts begin 20 minutes before each game. A talk with head coach John Sloop highlights the pregame telecast. At the half, the radio crew will recap the first half and take a look at other Bulldog sports action that is going on. After the game, Boyer will conduct a live interview with Sloop to recap the game. During doubleheaders, that interview will take place at halftime of the men’s game.

Brad Boyer and Hank Janssen

If you are out of the listening area, KRES also provides free live webcasts of Bulldog games on the Internet. Go to the Truman web page at gobulldogs.truman.edu for details or click on to www.regionalradio.com.

Other women’s basketball information on their website includes all coaches bios.

Truman official athletics web site includes all of the latest press releases, up-to-date statistics, roster, schedule and player and coaches bios.

Press Services:
Game notes, game programs and statistics will be provided to media personnel. The office will FAX final results to opponent media if numbers are provided. A small meal is served to members of the media who have given advanced notice of their attendance.

Interview Policy:
All interviews should be arranged through the Truman Athletics Media Relations Office. Approximately 10 minutes after a contest, players and coaches will be available upon request.

Press Area:
Truman’s Pershing Arena has a press area above the east side of the court for approximately 10-15 working media personnel and statisticians. Admission is by PASS ONLY. Person wishing to sit in this area must contact the Athletics Media Relations Office in advance of game day.

Photography:
Photographers, with passes, are permitted to shoot from the side of the court opposite the official’s table and player benches. Photographers are NOT allowed in front of the official’s table, player benches or around time-out huddles. Photographers should direct requests for passes to the athletics media relations office prior to the day of the game. Courtside flashes are not permitted.

Visiting Radio:
Visiting radio stations wishing to broadcast games must contact KRES sports director, Brad Boyer (660-263-1600), AFTER first contacting the Truman Athletics Media Relations Office.

This year’s Truman women’s basketball team looks to build on the momentum of last year’s team, while adding some key additions that will give the squad size on the inside and long-range threats from the outside. Just like last year, only one senior is on Truman’s roster, but the team is loaded with experienced juniors, some impact sophomores and a mix of newcomers that will make opponents take notice of this year’s team.

Senior Natalie Schupbach has been one of the hardest working players on Truman roster over the past three years. Schupbach has consistently been among the conference leaders in rebounding during her career and finished last season fourth in the MIAA at 7.3 a game and first in offensive rebounds at 3.18.

The experienced junior class features two players that played significantly over the past two seasons, two who had breakout year’s last season and one transfer.

Katie Fowler was the Bulldogs leading scorer seven times last year, which tied for the team-high, and had 12 games in which she scored over 10 points a game. Fowler started last season on a hot streak, averaging 13.6 points through the first six games. She cooled off during conference play, but did have a game-high 16 points against defending MIAA champion Washburn in early February.

Candace McGee nearly had a record-tying year for the Bulldogs last year. The then-sophomore hit 75 triples, just one off the school mark set by Susan Theroff in the 1990-91 season. McGee hit the 20-point mark twice last year and finished the year 17th in the MIAA in scoring at 11.1 points per game. McGee was second in three-pointers made per game at 2.68 and ninth in the league in three-point shooting percentage.

Candace’s twin sister Carmen made an impact into the starting lineup late in the year last season. Carmen joined Schupbach in pulling down rebounds finishing four of the last five games with seven rebounds a game.

Laura Cooper played for the Bulldogs last season after transferring from SIU Carbondale. Cooper showed long-range ability hitting 35 last year, including several from well beyond the arc. Cooper also had a knack of hitting her triples in spurts. Cooper made eight and had a game-high 24 points against Northwest last year in just 19 minutes of game action. She also had six games in which she made three three-pointers in the contest.

One of two transfers on the team is Julie Montebello from Florianopolis, Brazil. Montebello played junior college basketball at Hutchinson Community College.

Montebello was named the most valuable player when her high school team won the state championship tournament in 2002 as she averaged 13.0 points per game. Standing at 5-3, Montebello will see action as a guard, possibly point guard for the Bulldogs.

While the junior class has the sharp shooters, the sophomore class gives the Bulldogs the inside presence that is needed to win in the MIAA. Georgia Mueller, who was snubbed by league coaches for Freshman of the Year, led the team in scoring with 12.1 points per game including a season-high 29 points against Upper Iowa.

Mueller started 24 of 28 games as a freshman and was among league leaders in rebounding, free throw percentage and blocked shots. She scored 338 points and was a 44.2% shooter from the field and 74% from the free throw line. Mueller averaged 6.1 rebounds per game and 6.7 boards in conference games.

Jennifer Franklin also was a strong player on the inside for the Bulldogs last year. Franklin scored in double-figures in 10 games with a season-high 29 points against Upper Iowa.

Sarah Gordon, a 6-4 forward/center, will see her first action in a Bulldog uniform after transferring from Division I Tennessee-Chattanooga last semester. Gordon was an all-state second-team member at Mark Twain High School near Hannibal, Mo. prior to playing for one of the better Division I teams in the country.

Gordon redshirted her first year at UT-Chattanooga and played in just eight contest last fall before transferring to Truman at semester. She scored over 1100 points at Mark Twain and set the school’s blocked shot record with 440 for her career.

With Gordon, Franklin and Mueller on the inside, Truman could have one of the best frontcourts in the MIAA.

John Sloop has added four freshmen into the mix.

Julie Guinn averaged 15 points per game last year and was a 72% free throw shooter for Holden, Mo. Guinn scored over 1,000 points during her high school career and was named the team’s most valuable player in three of the four seasons.

Laura Joya also averaged in double-figures for her high school squad last season and was a three-time all-area and all-conference performer at Wheeling, Ill.

Sarah Seberger will add to the Bulldogs depth on the inside. Seberger finished her high school career with over 1,000 points and 1,000 rebounds and was named as a third-team all-state performer for Geneva, Ill. and Montini Catholic High School.

Lindsey Edgeman is a versatile player who can help Truman at several positions. Edgeman was a four-time all-conference player at Conway High School in Missouri.

The 2006-07 schedule sets up similar to last year. The Bulldogs will play a pair of Division I exhibition games, against Bradley of the Missouri Valley Conference and the University of Missouri-Columbia before tipping off the season at home against Harris-Stowe on Nov. 15th. The team faces an early road test against nationally ranked Drury on Nov. 18 before returning to Pershing Arena for three of the next four non-conference games.

Following a home-and-home with Lincoln, Truman will play their only conference game prior to the mid-term break. The Bulldogs will play at Missouri Southern on Dec. 9th and then face two more non-conference Division II games before conference starts in earnest. Truman will play at Rockhurst (Mo.) on Dec. 16th, then host former MIAA member Missouri-Rolla on Dec. 19th.

The conference shapes up to again be one of the toughest in the nation. Washburn and Emporia State are both ranked in preseason polls, while Missouri Western and Central Missouri hope to also contend for the title.

The Bulldogs look to be in a group of schools with Northwest Missouri, Pittsburg State, Missouri Southern and Southwest Baptist to make some noise with the perennial favorites.

Also new this season is the edition of Fort Hays State to the conference rotation. The Tigers play in Kirksville for the first time on Jan. 3rd with the Bulldogs making the trip to Hays, Kan. on Feb. 17th.

Laura Cooper played for the Bulldogs last season after transferring from SIU Carbondale.
John Sloop is in his seven season as the head coach of the Truman women's basketball program. He is in his 12th year coaching at the school, after also serving five years as an assistant basketball coach for the Bulldog men.

Sloop became the eighth head coach in the history of the Truman women's basketball program in July of 2000. Since then, he has compiled an overall record of 63-99 (.389), including a 39-17 record in non-conference contests and a 24-82 mark in the highly competitive MIAA. Three times, in 2002, 2003 and 2006, the Truman women advanced to the MIAA postseason tournament.

Sloop's team won nine games in his initial season as head coach in 2000-01, just missing out of a conference tournament berth by one win. The next year, he had his best season, going 14-13 overall and making his first showing in the postseason tournament. That year, Sloop's squad tied a school record for consecutive wins with seven.

In 2002-03, the Bulldogs again won nine games and the team made a second straight appearance in the MIAA tournament. That year, Truman recorded an upset over fifth-ranked Washburn, a team that would win the MIAA title and advance to the Elite Eight.

Sloop's squad had its second double-figue win season in 2003-04. The next year, the team won nine games overall, including another big victory over a ranked opponent. The Bulldogs defeated Quincy by 20 points at Pershing Arena. The Lady Hawks would later advance to the Round of 16 in the NCAA Tournament. Last season, a very young Bulldog squad improved by three wins and ended the program's postseason drought.

Under Sloop, five Bulldogs have been named to one of the MIAA's all-conference teams a total of seven times. Two of Truman's eight all-time first-team all-MIAA members have come during his tenure as Jennifer Perkins won the honor in 2002 and Sarah Sommer was named first-team in 2004. Another player, Annie Westhoff, earned preseason all-American honors in 2003 but was sidelined for most of the season with an injury.

Off the court, Sloop's teams have also collected many honors. The last two years, the Bulldogs have ranked 24th in the nation in team GPA, including a 3.324 mark last season. Over the last six years, 25 Bulldogs have been named to the MIAA commissioner's academic honor roll.

While an assistant coach for the Truman men's basketball team, Sloop helped the Bulldogs go 73-67. The program steadily improved during those first four seasons, including advancing to the NCAA Final Four in 1999.

Sloop's duties as the men's assistant included recruiting, organizing practice sessions, on-the-floor coaching, strategy development, scheduling, travel arrangements, video and monitoring academic progress of student-athletes. He was also a member of the NABC Assistant Coaches Board of Directors.

Prior to coming to Truman, he spent four years helping out at Division I programs. He served under Charlie Spoonhour from 1991-1995, being a basketball manager one year at Missouri State and two years at Saint Louis.

Sloop was then named an assistant coach at Missouri State during the 1994-95 season. While at the Division I program, Sloop assisted in nearly every aspect of the program, including recruiting, scouting and on-the-floor coaching.

He began his coaching career while still in college. After a career-ending ankle injury, he was hired by his former high school basketball coach as an assistant at Lafayette High School in St. Louis. While at Lafayette, Sloop also directed summer basketball camps for boys and girls in kindergarten through high school. In 1992, he served as head coach of the Springfield Kings, a 16-and-under AAU team.

Sloop graduated from Maryville University in St. Louis in 1991 with a bachelor of science degree in business management.

Marne Fauser will be in her seventh year as the assistant basketball coach at Truman. She has been a Bulldog even longer than that, as she played for the program for two seasons.

In addition to her on-the-floor coaching duties, Fauser serves as recruiting coordinator and camp director. She is also responsible for film exchanges, travel plans and scouting reports for the team.

Since Fauser has been coaching at Truman, the Bulldogs have recorded 63 victories. Included in that were wins over nationally-ranked teams in Washburn in 2003 and Quincy in 2004.

She has helped three Truman post players earn all-conference honors during her time coaching. Included in that were two athletes who were first-team all-MIAA.

Prior to starting her collegiate coaching career at Truman, Fauser served as the basketball and volleyball coach at Oak Grove West Middle School in Bartonville, Ill. She was also employed as a social studies teacher at Illini Bluffs High School during that time.

Fauser first came to Kirksville when she joined the women's basketball program in 1996. She was named honorable mention all-MIAA that year after averaging 7.7 points and she was second on the team with 5.0 rebounds a game.

Fauser recorded 10 double-figure scoring games in the 1996-97 season. One of the top games of her career came that year when she scored 18 points in leading the Bulldogs to an upset victory over the eventual MIAA champion, Missouri Western.

The next year, she collected similar numbers by averaging 7.7 points and 4.8 rebounds a game. She was second on the team in steals in 1997-98 with 41.

For her career, she played in 53 games, with 45 starts, and averaged 29.9 minutes, 7.7 points and 4.9 rebounds. She also recorded 67 career steals and was shot over 44% from the field.

The Truman program recorded double-figure wins in both years that Fauser was on the squad. Prior to her being on the roster, Truman had gone five years without winning 10 or more games. Fauser also helped the team win 13 MIAA games, after only winning 15 the previous five seasons.

Fauser served as the team’s co-captain her junior and senior years and won the program’s leadership award in 1997-98. She also served on the Truman athletics Captain’s Roundtable in 1996.

Prior to coming to Truman, she played two seasons at Illinois Central College. She was the team’s leader rebounder there and she led the squad to two regional titles and a fourth-place national finish in 1995-96.

At Limestone High School in Illinois, Fauser was the team MVP in both basketball and volleyball. She earned first-team all-conference honors in basketball and helped her team win two conference crowns. In volleyball, she was a second-team all-conference selection.

Fauser graduated from Truman in 1998 with a bachelor degree in psychology. In May of 2005, she had her first child, a daughter named Madisyn.
