2001-02 Season Preview

(Above) As a freshman, Kelly Latting became just the eighth Bulldog to break the 30-win barrier last season.

With just two seniors and no juniors on last year’s Truman wrestling team, the Bulldogs struggled through a season of youth and inexperience.

Though the ‘Dogs look better equipped this season from top to bottom, they may still have some growing pains with a relatively young group again that is without a single senior.

The top returner at 125 pounds is sophomore Grant Strickland who was 17-17 as a freshman last year, and just missed the national tournament after placing fifth at the Midwest regional meet. He will be pushed by freshman Allen Stokes and sophomore Phil Esposito who was 1-27 last year.

Depending on how things pan out, Strickland and Stokes could also weigh in at 133 pounds, along with freshman Kelly Hewitt. Hewitt will be just the second woman wrestler in the history of the Truman program, but could be the first to earn a win.

At 141 pounds, Phil Wilkey is the returner. Wilkey will be looking to better his 7-26 record in 2000-01, but will also have to keep an eye out for junior Nolyn Wagner and freshmen Merrick Meyer. Hewitt could also move up to 141 pounds.

One of the team’s top returners will again fill the 149-pound spot. Sophomore Kelly Latting went 32-17 as a freshman, just the eighth Bulldog to earn 30-plus wins in a season. Sophomore David Buhler could also see action at 149 pounds after spending the last two years as a redshirt and rehabbing an injury.

157-pounder Corey Crandall, one of five juniors on the team, was the only other ‘Dog, besides Latting, to post more than 20 wins last year. He went 22-23 as a true freshman and looks to be a shoe-in at 157 pounds again.

Junior Bo Rinehart was 16-18 at 165-pounds a year ago, but could be pushed by freshman Chris Pivirotto this season, providing Pivirotto is not redshirted.

Sophomore Wyatt Pickering was the only Bulldog to qualify for the NCAA national championships last year at 174 pounds. A running back on the Truman football team and a state champion wrestler in high school, Pickering wrestled in just two meets before qualifying for nationals at the Midwest Regional championships with a fourth-place finish. However, freshmen Aaron Armstrong, Gregg Nurrenbern or Tom Tajkowski may have to fill in at 174 pounds for most or all of the season while Pickering recovers from shoulder surgery.

Sophomore Nate Kessen returns at 184 pounds after posting a 10-23 record there last season. Sophomore Scott Smith will also be looking to make a mark at 184 after going 5-16 at 174 pounds in 2000-01.

Sophomore Marc Heinecke and freshman Matthew Sonn will vie for the 197-pound spot. Heinecke is also a running back for the Bulldog football team and worked out with the wrestling team in the early going last year.

Junior Bryan Jovick will once again be the only heavyweight on the team. He will be looking to improve on an 0-12 mark of last season.

The Bulldogs will host just one home meet this season on Feb. 7, but hope to qualify several individuals at the NCAA Division II Midwest Regional meet on Feb. 24 in Aberdeen, S.D.
Dave Schutter, who enters his 12th season as the Bulldogs' head coach, has guided four of Truman's seven all-America wrestlers to six NCAA all-America finishes. Under his direction, team members have made 19 individual appearances at the national meet.

He guided the Bulldogs to fifth-place finishes at the Midwest regional championships four times, some of the best regional finishes in school history. Schutter received the Mid-South Wrestling Association coach of the year award for the 1996-97 season, and was named the Midwest regional coach of the year in 1992-93.

He has compiled 51 wins in his 12 seasons at Truman, the most by any Bulldog coach, and guided the 'Dogs to their only undefeated season at 11-0-1 in 1992-93.

Schutter's teams have also enjoyed success in the classroom as his squads have placed among the top 10 on the National Wrestling Coaches Association list of academic teams for NCAA Division II for the last 12 seasons. He has also seen his student-athletes earn 22 places on the NWCA all-academic team.

He began his collegiate wrestling career at Indiana University under Olympic champion Doug Blubaugh, compiling a record of 17-9 at 118 pounds. Schutter transferred to Indiana State the following year and moved up to 126 pounds for the next three years. He won six tournament titles and was the runner-up once. Schutter finished third in the NCAA Division I Midwest Regionals. He received a political science degree from Indiana State in 1986.

From 1987-90, he served in the U.S. Army, spending most of his military career as a member of the all-Army wrestling team. Schutter competed in the Inter-Service Championships, U.S. Nationals, Olympic Trials and World Events, and won numerous open tournaments while stationed in Wrazberg, Germany. He also won the U.S. Army European Freestyle and Greco-roman Championship at 136.5.

He compiled a cumulative record of 277-33-5 and was a finalist for the 1988 U.S. Olympic Trials.

In 1990, while training at the Olympic Training center in Colorado Springs, Schutter suffered a career-ending neck injury at the height of a promising Greco-Roman wrestling career. Schutter then coached the Wrazberg team which won the VII Corps freestyle and Greco-Roman championships in Europe. Schutter believes in a theory of constantly striving to improve and in coaching a scholar-athlete, an athlete whose most important goal is to graduate with honors.

He has a son, Dakota, who is 7-years-old, and a daughter Kami, who is 2-years-old.

* No longer a Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association sport.
Decision: Worth three team points. If no fall has been scored in the match and time has expired, the wrestler with the most match points will be declared the winner. In result of a tie in match points, the decision will be a draw in dual meets.

Default: Worth six team points. Awarded when one wrestler is unable to continue for any reason.

Disqualification: Worth six team points. When a wrestler has exceeded the limit of penalties allowed in a match.

Escape: Worth one individual point. Occurs when the defensive wrestler gains a neutral position and the offensive wrestler has lost control while the supporting points of either wrestler are in bounds.

Fall: Worth six team points. Any part of both shoulders held in contact with the mat for one second.

Forfeit: Worth six team points. Received when an opponent, for any reason, fails to appear for the match.

Major Decision: Worth four team points. Occurs when the margin of victory after three periods is eight through 14 points.

Near Fall: Worth two or three individual points. A position in which the offensive wrestler has his opponent in a controlled pinning situation for two seconds (worth two points). If the same criteria is met for five seconds, three points shall be awarded.

Reversal: Worth two individual points. When the defensive wrestler comes from underneath and gains control of the opponent, either on the mat or in a rear-standing position.

Riding Time: Worth one individual point. When one wrestler has gained more than a minute difference than his opponent in the top (controlled) position, at the end of a match, the referee will award one point for this advantage.

Takedown: Worth two individual points. Awarded when, from the neutral position, a contestant gains control and places his opponent's supporting points down on the mat beyond reaction time.

Technical Fall: Worth four or five team points. Received when a wrestler has earned a 15-point advantage over the opponent. If he was also awarded a near fall, five points are awarded. If not, four points shall be awarded.

What's In A Nickname
Why was the nickname, Bulldogs, selected for Truman State University? O.C. Bell in 1908 referred to his performers as Bulldogs, but it wasn't an official designation. So far as is known, this term wasn't used again until the spring of 1915.
At the time, a committee of students, including the late President Emeritus Walter H. Ryle, recommended the adoption of the "Bulldog" as the official emblem because of the beast's tenacity and ability to hold on and fight desperately to the end.
The spirit of the Bulldog has been evident since the name was selected 86 years ago. It's not unique though, as at least 16 NCAA schools have adopted the "Bulldog".
Calvin Buhler 1999
Buhler placed fourth at the NCAA Division II national championships as a senior ... holds several school career and individual records, including the career wins mark with 122 ... was a three-time NWCA academic all-America.

Brad Kieffer 2000
Kieffer placed fifth at 141 pounds at the 2000 national championships ... he was 38-6 in his final year and 105-36 for his career ... a four-time NWCA first-team academic all-America and recipient of an NCAA postgraduate scholarship.
